PCS Team

Scott Randall

Scott Randall is an award winning Off-Campus Coordinator and Sr High English teacher at Glenmary School. In his spare time, Scott is an independent recording artist. He also volunteers his time as a music minister at church and school sports coach. He enjoys playing music festivals in the summer, travelling, weight training, reading and exploring the world with his wife.

Shaunna Dallyn

Shelley Stagg Peterson

A former elementary classroom teacher in rural Alberta, Shelley now teaches, conducts research, and writes articles and books about writing instruction and assessment and about children's literature at OISE/University of Toronto, Canada. When she's not working at OISE, Shelley enjoys weekends with her husband and their cat at their country home, where the mice are stout of heart and far too clever as they assert their squatting rights in a 100-year old farm house that is empty during the week.

Stacey Wollum

Stacey Wolum is a teacher with PRSD.

Tiffany Poirier

Tiffany Poirier is a national award-winning educator, author, and parent who believes in the power of questions and the infinite gifts of every child. With her articles, radio features, documentaries, YouTube channel, and a TEDxVictoria talk on "The Power to Question", Tiffany spotlights youth voices and shares a window into the insights gleaned from her practice. Empowering pint-sized philosophers to pursue their questions in dialogue circles, she helps them grow their ideas through in-depth, passion-based project work. A champion for creative education, an expert on inquiry learning, and a leader in the "Philosophy for Children" (P4C) movement, Tiffany received the Prime Minister's Award for Teaching Excellence in 2014. Tiffany continues to support teaching and innovation through her current role as a District Vice Principal for the Greater Victoria School District.
