Learning Opportunity

This series introduces educators to foundational principles and practices of effective classroom management. Participants will explore strategies to create a positive, respectful, and engaging learning environment. Topics addressed will include:

- ProActive and Reactive Strategies
- Relationships & Culturally Responsive Classroom Practices
- Expectations and Procedures Matter
- Routines and Transitions

Participants will develop a personal Classroom Management to implement in their own classrooms and be provided an opportunity to share successes, challenges and ask questions after implementing their plans.

Presenters

Kirstin Rozema

Kiki has spent the last 15 years teaching junior high, and truly believes the classroom is where growth and possibility begin. Along the way, she has had the privilege of serving as Department Head for six years at two different schools, leading curriculum initiatives and supporting fellow teachers. She also ran the Travel Club, giving students opportunities to see the world and expand their perspectives beyond the classroom walls.

Kiki hold a Master's Degree in Multidisciplinary Leadership, which has strengthened her passion for building strong, supportive school cultures. Beyond teaching, she founded No Girl Left Behind Empowerment Event Ltd., a nonprofit dedicated to helping women and girls grow in confidence, purpose, and mental wellness.

At the heart of everything she does is a belief in empowerment—of students, teachers, and communities. Kiki is especially passionate about supporting the professional growth of other educators, because when teachers thrive, students thrive.
