Learning Opportunity

Please note:

- morning content will focus on Grades 1-2 Foundations of Writing
- afternoon content will focus on Grades 3-6 Foundations of Writing (Grade 1 & 2 Teachers are welcome to stay for the full day).

Elementary teachers will engage in hands-on, practical writing instruction from Dr. Deborah Louis, grounded in the Jane Schaffer Writing Program®. Sessions will focus on narrative writing, expository writing (summary and text-based), and paragraph development. Teachers will leave with lesson ideas, instructional language, and strategies that can be immediately applied in classrooms, including Foundations classes. This session will also cover programming considerations for ELLs.

Presenters

Dr. Deborah Louis

Deborah E. Louis doesn't just teach writing—she embodies it. Raised by parents who were both teachers, she learned the value of lifelong learning early on. Her mother, a high school English teacher, was passionate about the belief that a teacher should always remain a student. That philosophy shaped Deborah's approach to education, reinforcing her understanding that teaching isn't just about instruction—it's about transformation, growth, and the continuous pursuit of excellence. As the owner of Louis Educational Concepts and the Jane Schaffer Writing Program®, she continues to empower educators and students with the tools, strategies, and inspiration to write with clarity, purpose, and confidence.
