Learning Opportunity

Historically, The Mamawhitowin Conference features two days of keynotes and breakout sessions to engage and empower all educators who come together. This year we will ‘Come Together’ for a combination of Indigenous Learning Series and work toward the success of all students meeting the new Alberta TQS standards. This year’s theme is “Live the Learning”

Series 3 - Infusing Indigenous Knowledge into the Curriculum: “Live the Learning-Teacher Feature”

This 6 week series will feature teachers from Treaty 8, Zone 1 presenting examples of how they have infused Indigenous Knowledge into the curriculum of various subjects at various grade levels.

The series will begin with a session from Jaime Chalifoux, Indigenous Education Coach with High Prairie School Division, that will help you think about ways to infuse Indigenous knowledge into your curriculum and will also provide you with many examples of how this can be done. The series continues each week with ‘Teacher Features” from different Division/Grade Levels and culminate with a review and sharing of curriculum mapping documents that embed Indigenous Knowledge into Gr. 1-6 Core Subjects.

Join us for the series or drop into a single session and share in the learning.

Presenters

Kim Barker-Kay

Kim is currently a consultant with the northwest region of The Consortium. Previously, Kim was a teacher, principal, and researcher in north western Alberta. Her work and research evolved into a focus on building educational equity. She spent many years involved in diversity leadership training which is now merging with an anti-racism focus. Additionally, Kim had a unique experience as the protegé of a Cree Elder for ten years. As a principal, Kim was able to put what she learned into practice with favourable student achievement results. She learned first hand the complexities involved in building educational equity which led her to her current path with infusing Indigenous ways of knowing and being into new curriculum, as well as doing a deeper exploration into decolonization and anti-racism work. Kim continues to live in the High Prairie area. Her great passions include her family and the outdoors.

Jamie Chalifoux

I am a Cree/Metis raised in the historic community of Grouard Alberta.

I work for the High Prairie School Division as an Indigenous Education Coach. My most important roles in life however are being a husband and a father of two very active children.

I started exploring my culture and spirituality, and it has guided me towards a path that was already set out for me. I attend many gatherings and ceremonies throughout the year that help me continue to grow into a better husband, father and person. I enjoy being able to share the teachings that have been shared with me. I hope this helps  preserve our teachings and inspires the next generation to learn more about their culture and spirituality.
